

Wolfgang Puck Catering at the El Rey Theatre Next Act: Big on Flavor. Big on Style.

Located in the heart of the historic Miracle Mile, the El Rey Theatre is one of L.A.'s hottest destinations for special events and entertaining. Originally designed by Clifford Balch, the El Rey is a registered historic landmark originally purposed as a movie house for fifty years. Now, host to some of the hippest live music and dance clubs in Los Angeles, the theatre offers accommodations for a variety of special events filled with the grandeur and pizzazz of art deco detailing. Add the culinary touch and expert services of Wolfgang Puck Catering to this glamorous setting and you'll discover events that are big on both flavor and style.

Welcomed by the dynamic neon of our majestic marquee entrance, your guests will be transported to a by-gone era from the moment they arrive. From the sweeping staircase cascading into the gorgeous lobby to the multipurpose stage and grand ballroom, the El Rey's unique layout and state-of-the-art sound and lighting can be customized to host a variety of different events. The versatile space can be transformed to accommodate live music performances, fashion shows, wedding receptions, dinner parties, film screenings, corporate events, location shoots, bar mitzvahs or any other type of event you can imagine. With a layout consisting of several separate, yet interconnected spaces including a VIP balcony lounge, the El Rey has the potential to create intimate settings and comfortable environments for groups of any size.

The beautiful venue is further enhanced by historic taste-maker Wolfgang Puck, offering the venue's exclusive catering services. While planning your event, you'll work hand-in-hand with Wolfgang Puck Catering's expert team to ensure that it meets and exceeds your expectations. Our team of professionals is dedicated to providing the same fresh, world-class cuisine and impeccable service that originally earned Wolfgang Puck his legendary reputation. Wolfgang's passion for the essence of taste—the ripest tomato, the sweetest strawberry and the most aromatic truffle—will be manifest on every plate. And with nearly limitless menu options, your meal will be as unique as the occasion.
